

Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 30 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and feeling warm during Wednesday.

Today:
A sunny and bright start, with some cloud possibly over the Pennines. Remaining dry throughout and turning hazy into the afternoon. Gentle breezes and feeling warm. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
A fine summer's evening, as clear skies continue with the occasional passing cloud. Overnight, feeling chilly as temperatures drop without cloud cover. Staying dry. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Thursday:
A hazy day with some sunny spells and low cloud building over the Pennines. Spots of light rain possible throughout the day, particularly along coasts. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Feeling warm in the day and cool overnight during this period. Sunny spells with showery outbreaks throughout, although intensity and frequency increasing over the weekend, possibly turning thundery by Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.